

Occupational Health Clinics

Implement your occupational health programs at our clinics or on-site at your location

Implementing your occupational health programs can be challenging, especially if you have many locations or numerous protocols due to multiple occupational health exposures.

From pre-placement medical exams, medical testing, and independent assessments, to immunization and medical surveillance programs, we have you covered throughout Ontario and across Canada.

We have professionally staffed and equipped occupational health clinics in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Sarnia and Ottawa and a network of associated clinics in more than 100 cities and towns across Canada.

The clinics are supported by an experienced team of program administrators and custom software to provide centralized administration, appointment booking, record keeping and quality control.

We can also come to you. Our on-site medical team travels to client locations across town or across the country. Save time and money by having us come to you for testing from 15 to 250 employees or more. We do more than 2,000 health assessments a year on-site.

On-Site Clinics

On-site team can include an occupational health physician, occupational health nurse and occupational health medical technicians as well as mobile hearing testing and mobile x-ray. The team comes with all required testing equipment and supplies. We require one or two clean rooms and can accommodate different shift schedules.
